BONANZA

Chardonnay

CALIFORNIA

Bonanza began in 2019 with Cabernet Sauvignon made from diverse parts of California. Inspiration came from Caymus co-founder Charlie Wagner Sr. and his enjoyment (always in moderation) of a good glass of wine with lunch or dinner. Bonanza celebrates this simple pleasure of life, along with the thrill of discovery from exploring our great state. Now Charlie Sr.'s namesake and grandson is continuing the family tradition with this introduction of Bonanza Chardonnay Lot 1.

"We see limitless potential to make a fun, delicious Chardonnay. I love working with this varietal because it can be made in a range of different styles."

– Charlie Wagner, winemaker

WINEMAKER

Charlie Wagner caught the winemaking bug in high school. He embarked on a never-ending fascination with finding great vineyard sites throughout California. The owner and winemaker for Mer Soleil wines, Charlie has been producing Chardonnay for more than 25 years. He is thrilled to launch a new wine for Bonanza.

STYLE & NOTES

This Chardonnay is far from typical. Not buttery or oak-driven, it features a pure expression of the variety. Bounces out of the glass, exuding a singular freshness. Light melon and a bouquet of fresh flowers. Entry is round and slightly viscous, while vibrant acidity calls you back for another sip. Highly enjoyable over a meal or on its own.
